

CHRISTIANS AGAINST CHRISTIAN NATIONALISM

Christians Against Christian Nationalism is a grassroots, ecumenical movement that equips Christians to oppose this dangerous ideology that distorts the Christian faith and America's constitutional democracy.

The campaign organizes events, speaks out in the media and brings together diverse Christian groups to create a united front against Christian nationalism.

“A lot of people are upset about white Christian nationalism, but too few are taking action to uproot and counter it in their churches and communities. Christians Against Christian Nationalism is the leader in actually organizing people for effective advocacy.”

“BJC defends religious freedom for all of God’s children — those who share our religion, those who practice a different faith, and those who do not claim a given spiritual tradition.”

Faith . Freedom . For All.

The targeting of religious minorities. The rise of Christian nationalism. The politicization of houses of worship.

BJC tackles today's serious threats to religious liberty.

OUR BELIEFS

BJC believes the institutional separation of church and state is good for both. We are guided by both the Baptist conviction of soul freedom and the First Amendment's guarantee of religious freedom.

OUR WORK

BJC works at the highest levels of government and in local communities across the country to defend faith freedom for all. We engage a range of public advocacy tools, such as filing briefs at the U.S.

Supreme Court and forming coalitions to pass legislation. We are the only faith-based group with a singular focus on religious freedom.

“Just as Americans can be deeply patriotic but not narrowly nationalist, Americans can also be deeply religious without blurring their faith with partisan politics.”
